

DIY Tassel Necklace

Supplies:

- 1 package of eye pins
- 1 package of 4mm jump rings
- 1 package of 14mm plain toggle clasps
- 1 package of end caps
- 3 feet of 2mm rolo chain
- 3 feet of twisted and smooth link chain
- 1 foot of 4mm rolo chain
- 9 pearls 8mm in size
- 19 bead caps to fit pearls

Step 1:

Cut fifteen sections of 2mm rolo chain in 2 inch sections each.

Step 2 & 3:

Enlarge the loop of eye pin so that it is 6mm around. Thread all fifteen sections of chain onto the eye pin loop and securely close it.

Step 4:

String an end cap and a bead cap onto the wire above the chain links. Make a loop after the bead cap to hold the caps down in place.

Step 5:

String a bead cap, pearl, and another bead cap onto a second eye pin. Make a loop after the second bead cap to create a link. Open up the loop above the tassel, attach the pearl link, and close it securely.

Step 6 & 7:

Cut eight sections of twisted and smooth link chain approximately 1 3/4 inches in length. This can easily be done by cutting the single round link that connects the two long oval links together. Create nine pearl links by stringing two bead caps and a pearl onto nine additional eye pins and making loops after the beads.

Step 8:

Open the top loop on the pearl link above the tassel and attach two sections of twisted and smooth link chain. Close loop securely.

Step 9:

Attach a pearl link to the end of each piece of chain by opening up the loop at the bottom of the link, threading the chain onto the loop, and closing it securely.

Step 10:

Repeat Step 9 alternating chain and pearl link on each side of the necklace. Connect these components until you have four chain links and four pearl links on both sides.

Step 11:

Cut 4mm rolo chain in two sections measuring 6 inches each.

Step 12 & 13:

Attach one section to the last pearl link on each side of your necklace. Attach toggle clasps to the end of the rolo chain using 4mm jump rings.
